PHAEDRUS.

SIR,

I Have always look'd upon your Brother Grubeans as a Set of impartial Magiſtrates, whoſe peculiar Buſineſs it is, to be a Terror to Evil Doers, and a Praiſe to thoſe who do well; or, in other Terms, to be the Guardians of good Senſe, and the Scourge of every impertinent Garreteer, who preſumes to palm Nonſenſe on the Publick, or to write in any Language whatever, without being a Perfect Maſter of all its Beauties. How zealous have they lately ſhewn themſelves in their laudable Endeavours to preſerve the Dignity of the Roman Tongue! With what a Flow of Words have they, for above two Columns together, expos'd an unguarded Modern for an improper Uſe of that little, unlucky Word [FORE] and dubb'd him, in the Warmth of their Reſentment, an eternal GRUB, for ſuch an enormous Offence! With what Eagle's Eyes did they pry into a late Regiſter of yours, and how ſmartly did they animadvert on your little Geographical Slip with Relation to the Metropolis of Poland! Who can ſufficiently admire their H—n—lean Paragraph from their Pegaſus in Grubſtreet, on the 5th Inſtant? Was my Lord Mayor's Proceſſion ever before adorn'd with ſuch deſcriptive Beauties? How correct the Style! How ſmooth, how harmonious the Periods! FIRST (ſays your ingenious Brother) proceeded the ſeveral Companies; the Ranging of which in their proper Order, takes up eight long Lines together. When he had brought them as far as Ludgate, he thought proper to take Breath, and make a Halt; as doubtleſs it was highly requiſite after ſuch a Ciceronian Period. As ſoon as he had fully recover'd himſelf, he proceeded further in the following Terms. When his Lordſhip was under Ludgate, the Priſoners diſcharg'd above 30 Chambers; next his Lordſhip's Horſe with fine Velvet Furniture trimm'd with Gold, &c. How conſpicuous the Senſe! How ſurprizingly beautiful the Tranſition! His Lordſhip in his Coach of State drawn by two dun or (ſome ſay) ſorril Horſes, &c. How exact in the Colour! How fearful to offend in ſo important a Particular! In ſhort, to point out all the Beauties of this inimitable Piece would be an endleſs Task; I hope therefore your gentle Readers will not be ſurpriz'd, when I aſſure them, that this whole Paragraph was wrote by ſome deceaſed Grubean; for certain it is no Man alive could write ſuch a one.——Now to improve what has been ſaid. How cautious ought you Gentlemen, who write the Regiſter, and your other Brother Journaliſts to be, when ſuch univerſal Scholars, ſuch profound Criticks, and ſuch implacable Satyriſts, have their Hawks-Eyes forever over you, and with Pleaſure embrace the leaſt Opportunity publickly to cenſure and expoſe your moſt trivial Errors! ——But to be ſerious.——The moſt inſtructive Moral, that can be drawn from theſe Ironical Encomiums, is, the juſt Obſervation which Mr. Simeon Snarle (one of your worthy Members) made in your late learned Debate, viz. That moſt Men have Eagles-Eyes to diſcern the Failings of their Neighbours, but are as blind as Owls to their own Imperfections. This judicious Reflection brought to my Memory a facetious Story, which in my Opinion is very applicable to the preſent Occaſion, and which, for the further Amuſement of your Readers I have ſent you incloſ'd, both in Proſe and Verſe. The Original is related by that inimitable Story-Teller, Dean Sw——t; the Paraphraſe is attempted by,

Your very Humble Servant,

L. L.

A Mountebank in Leiceſter-Fields had drawn a huge Aſſembly about him. Among the reſt, a fat unweildy Fellow, half ſtifled in the Preſs, would be every Fit crying out, "Lord! What a filthy Crowd is here! Pray, good "People, give Way a little. Bleſs me! What a Devil "has rak'd this Rabble together: Z—d's, what Squeezing "is this! Honeſt Friend, remove your Elbow." At laſt, a Weaver that ſtood next him, could hold no longer: "A Plague confound you (ſaid he) for an over-gown Sloven; and who (in the D——l's Name) I wonder, helps to "make up the Crowd half ſo much as yourſelf? Don't "you conſider (with a P-x) that you take up more Room "with that Carcaſe than any Five here? Is not the Place "as free for us as for you? Bring your own Guts to a reaſonable Compaſs (and be d——d) and then I'll engage "we ſhall have Room enough for us all."

The foregoing Story Paraphras'd, with a Moral at the End of it.

The Retaliation; Or, the Modeſt Reply.

I.

AS once an Emprick gayly dreſt,
And like a Lord well mounted,
Harangu'd the Mob in learned Cant,
And all his Cures recounted;

II.

A Cook, as pamper'd as a Prieſt,
Full three Yards round the Waiſte,
Stood in the Center of the Throng,
Wide-gaping with the Reſt.

III.

But wedg'd too cloſe, he puff'd and blow'd,
And threw his Elbows out;
Bleſs me! how ſhamefully they crowd,
And thruſt and ſqueeze about!

IV.

A grave old Quaker ſtrait reply'd,
" How canſt thou thus exclaim!
" Survey thy own ungodly Gut,
" Then ſay, Friend, who's to blame?

The Application.

With envious, and with Eagles-Eyes,
We other's Foibles find;
But to our own more groſs Defects
Too partially are blind.

To the AUTHOR of the WEEKLY REGISTER.

SIR,

THE incloſ'd Epigram is extracted from the Grubſtreet Journal of the 5th Inſtant, which is an invidious Reflection on a Gentleman of known Modeſty and Merit. As the Doctor is my intimate Acquaintance, I hope you'll give me an Opportunity to ſhew my juſt Reſentment, by inſerting in your next Paper their Libel, with my Anſwer annex'd

I am, Yours,

SIMEON SNARLE.

An EPIGRAM.

THE Furies at a Time in conſult met,
Who next to Satan ſhould in triumph ſit;
Dulneſs her heavy Arguments propos'd,
And Envy all her poiſ'nous Veins diſcloſ'd;
Ill Nature next aroſe in ſurly State;
Hold, ſays Sir Satan, end your grand Debate:
A Mortal in ſuperior Merit ſtands;
Have you forgot my old Friend Parſon H——s?
To Him, next Me, the mighty Empire's due;
He's Dulneſs, Envy, and ill Nature too.

To Mr. Bavius, Secretary to the Grubean Society.

YOUR Epigram, you tell us, only ſtands,
As the grim Picture of dull Doctor H——s;
Bold are the Strokes, with Art perform'd, 'tis true: ——
Change but the Name, and faith 'twas drawn for YOU.

Maxima debetur PUERIS Reverentia. —— JUV.

SIR,

I Have an Only Son, a Youth of about eighteen Years of Age, who has for many Years been educated at a Free-School, in the Weſt of England, under a Gentleman juſtly admir'd for his Addreſs, Humanity and Learning. My Boy is now preparing for the Univerſity; and on Thurſday laſt, which was their Annual Election Day, ſeveral Gentlemen and Ladies of Diſtinction were entertain'd by the Scholars, with, what they call, a PUBLICK EXERCISE, both in Latin and Engliſh. Ten young Gentlemen only of the ſuperior Claſs were concern'd in this Performance. All of them gave entire Satisfaction to a numerous and learned Audience; but pardon my partial Fondneſs in aſſuring you my Son diſtinguiſh'd himſelf on this Occaſion. I am conſcious that, as every Lad has not a Genius for Poetry, 'tis cuſtomary for the Maſter's themſelves to prepare ſome of theſe Publick Amuſements; but, if I may take my Boy's Word, the Incloſ'd was the pure Dictates of his own Imagination. As I am but a Tradeſman, and no great Judge of Compoſitions of this Nature, I have ſent you a Copy of his Exerciſe for your friendly Cenſure or Approbation. I ſhall be proud, I muſt own, to ſee it inſerted in your next Paper, becauſe I ſhall take your favourable Reception of it as a Confirmation of its Merit; if not, I ſhall attribute the more than common Applauſe it met with, to a Muſical Voice only, and graceful Action. I am,

Sir, Yours, &c. R. R.

" Our Society return their Thanks to this their kind Corre-

The PEDLAR.

——— Opiferque per Orbem
Dicor. ———

I Sing of Pedlars and of Packs,
And Burdens born on aking Backs,
Deſcendants of Old CAIN, the firſt
Merchant, to wand'ring Life accurſt;
Whether from Calidon they come,
Or from Wale's barren Mountains roam;
Or elſe from London's City fair,
Where ſtroling Hawkers licens'd are,
It matters not; where'er they ſtray,
BACK bears the Burden of the Day.
This brings to mind in Days of Yore,
I read the Pilgrim's Progreſs o'er;
There Bunnian, in the Frontiſpiece
Appears in different Shapes and Dreſs;
Amongſt the Reſt with Staff in Hand,
And Pack he ſcarce could under ſtand,
Trudges up Hill with grievous Strain;
But diſtant Views make light the Pain.
Theſe petty Chapmen, 'tis well known,
By Cant and Jargon of their own,
Seduce the Country Folk, tho' ſly,
In Hopes great Penny-worths to buy.
The Wallet's open'd they ſpread forth
Goods, that are re'lly of no Worth;
Damag'd for Good, and for New, Old,
And Counters palm on them for Gold;
Who, tho' they find they have been cheated,
Yearly ſubmit to have't repeated;
And notwithſtanding they are ſtung
Cheriſh the Snake, that did the Wrong.
Then, Countrymen, and Kinſfolk, hearken,
Let not thoſe BITES your Opticks darken;
Look ſharper for the Time to come,
Baniſh theſe Caterpillars home.
What ſignifies your Tranſportation,
To either this, or that Plantation?
'Tis but for Time, and when that's out,
Home trudges back the Rabble Rout,
Rather improv'd in Villainy,
Than any Ways reform'd thereby.
Then let's to Balance the Account,
And all theſe Hardſhips to ſurmount,
Send Thoſe of Scotland croſs the Tweed,
There their remaining Life to lead;
Which would be Puniſhment indeed.
Let the Welch-Gentry home be ſent,
With Leeks and Onyons be content,
And in the Mountains cloſe be pent.
Let England keeps its own bleſt Gang,
And one Half of them yearly hang.
The only Method to have none,
Is, let each Country take its own.
But hold! you'll ſay, ſure you're in jeſt?
What! Not a Man can ſtand the Teſt?
Are all your Tribe ſo bad indeed?
Not one of Honour in the Breed?
Pardon me, Sirs, I was miſtaken;
Yet ſtill I hope to ſave my Bacon.
What are our Friends at Will's and Dick's,
But Pedlars? who, in Politicks,
Pack up old Stories by the Hour,
Of who is out, and who in Pow'r;
Tell what is doing at Gibraltar,
And when the Face of Things will alter;
Then of the Emperor, and Ruſſia
And Diff'rences made up with Pruſſia;
Talk of the warm, and bloody Work
'Twixt the Venetians and the Turk;
And how our Plenipos at France
Have learnt to eat, to drink, and dance.
Next are our modern Race of Beaus,
(With ſmart Toupees, and powder'd Cloths)
LOVE-PEDLARS, who pack up their Wit,
In hopes to cheat ſome honeſt Cit;

Talk of Eſtates, improv'd each Acre;
But where?—in Ireland, or Jamaica.
Full fraught with muſty Deeds to cozen,
And bring home Fortunes by the Dozen.
Then there's our Female Family,
Who Peddle Scandal o'er Bohea;
Produce large Packs of Deſamation,
'Gainſt every Perſon in the Nation:
What Matches are in Hand they ſhew,
And whiſper round Who lies with Who.
Some Secret every one pretends,
To ſcandalize her abſent Friends:
And when ſhe's out of Breath with Railing,
Cries out,——But who's without her Failing?
With Eaſe 'twere prov'd (would Time permit)
The Courtier, Soldier, Lawyer, Cit,
Nay (to go farther) every Man,
Ev'n from Beerſheba unto Dan,
Are of the PEDDLING-TRIBE:——But this
We'll waive, leſt YOU ſhould take't amiſs.
As for Ourſelves, it is as plain,
As Five from Ten that Five remain.
Witneſs our heavy Leathern Packs
Of learned Lumber at our Backs,
With which we trudge from Street to Street,
With heavy Hearts, and aking Feet,
Here come to trade in Greek and Latin,
And having got good Store of that in
Our Upper Rooms, we vend it here,
To reliſh, SIRS, your better cheer;
In hopes you'll ſend us packing hence,
To your warm COLLEGE-TENEMENTS.

WEDNESDAY, November 11.

This Day, the new Inſtructions and Orders are to be deliver'd to the Commanders of the Royal Navy.

We hear, that one of the new-faſhion'd Letters has been ſent to a noble Lord in Surrey, and ſeveral more of them to ſeveral other Perſons in Town and Country, fill'd with dreadful Menaces, horrid Oaths, and blaſphemous Expreſſions; demanding Money of the Perſons to whom directed, &c.——It is humbly hoped, our wiſe Legiſlature by ſome Means or other, will find out a Way to ſtop this Evil, which ſeems to grow daily more common among us.

On Monday Night, about Five, a Fire happen'd in the Still-Houſe of Juſtice Rolfe, in Barnaby-Street, Southwark; occaſion'd by the Head of the Still flying off, which very much alarm'd the Neighbourhood: But by the good Management of the Juſtice, in the Midſt of the Hurry; he immediately ſending for Firemen, and giving them proper Directions, the ſame was ſoon extinguiſh'd, and no great Damage done.

Yeſterday, the noted Roger Johnſon, now a Priſoner in Newgate, having brought a Habeas Corpus to Serjeant's-Inn, Chancery-Lane, in order to ſurrender himſelf before Mr. Juſtice Probyn in Diſcharge of his Bail, was carried accordingly; but before he had got quite to the Inn, he made his Eſcape from the Officers who had Charge of him, and ran down the Temple-Lane; but being cloſely purſued, was taken, and carried back to his former Lodging.

The ſame Morn. Sir John Gonſon, and about twelve more Juſtices of the Peace, of the Committee appointed at the laſt Weſtm. Seſſions, for ſuppreſſing the Night-Houſes, and other diſorderly Houſes, met at St. Anne's-Veſtry, and iſſued out Waiters againſt ſeveral Perſons keeping ſuch Houſes, in order to have them apprehended, againſt their next Meeting.——Several Perſons who have lately had threatning Letters, appear'd before the ſaid Juſtices: The Juſtices ſpent ſome Time in examining the ſaid Letters, and it is hoped will have as good Succeſs in finding out the Authors, as in their other laudable Endeavours.

Sir Rich. Brocas, Knt. the late Ld. Mayor, will act as one of his Majeſty's Juſtices of the Peace, for this City; and Yeſterday open'd his Office accordingly.

On Sunday laſt, the Conſtable, Church-Warden, Overſeers of the Poor and Headboroughs of Whitechappel, went round the ſaid Pariſh in ſearch of diſorderly Perſons, that frequently game, and otherwiſe prophane the Sabbath-Day, and apprehended ſeveral of them; and the next Day ſeven of them, Pickpocket Boys, and lewd Women, were committed to Bridewell, to hard Labour, by Clifford William Phillips, Eſq;.

Pref. Mr. Montague, a young Gentleman of Eaton-College, is made an Enſign in a Reg. of Foot, at Gibraltar.——Yeſterday, at a Board of Admiralty, Mr. Legg, Gunner of the Deal-Caſtle, was appointed Gunner of the Windſor, and is ſucceeded in the Deal-Caſtle by Mr. Lucas.——Sir Robt. Clifton, Knight of the Bath, is to go as Envoy to the Court of Berlin.

Mar. A Marriage is agreed on, between Mr. Liſter a Merchant of Liverpool, and Mrs. Eliz. Dodſon, of Cookham, in Berkſhire, Daughter to the late John Dodſon, Eſq; deceas'd, ſometime High Sheriff of Berks.

Deaths. Laſt Sunday, died very rich, at her Houſe in Chelſea, Mrs. Tuckwell, Relict of Mr. Tuckwell, formerly Fiſhmonger to the late Q. Anne; ſhe has left moſt of her Eſtate to her Nephew, Mr. Turner, a Gentleman of the Temple.——The ſame Day, died —— Bates, Eſq; of Queen's-Square by Ormond-Street, poſſeſs'd of a large Eſtate.——On Monday the 2d. of this Inſt. died Mr. Peter Lewis, one of the Hautboys in his Majeſty's 2d. Reg. of Horſe Grenadiers, about 23 Years of Age. He was a Perſon of a capacious Genius, and a fine Performer. His Affability, Courteſy, and good Nature, render'd him lovely to all his Acquaintance, and made his Loſs much lamented.——His Manner of Burial being uncommon, and his Friends paying that grateful Reſpect to his Remains, which they eſteem'd juſtly due to a dear departed Friend, we ſhall be particular in the Deſcription ——He was carried from his Lodging in Petticoat-Lane, Whitechappel (on Thurſday the 5th Inſt. about 11 at Night) to the Pariſh-Church-Yard of St. Botolph Aldgate; preceeded by eight Hautboys, and two Baſſoons, performing a ſolemn Piece of Muſick, of the immortal Compoſition of Mr. Henry Purcel; the Pall was ſupported by ſix Gentlemen, Batchelors, in black Cloaths, with white Gloves and Favours; and the Corps was followed by a numerous Company of his Relations, Friends and Acquaintance. The Proceſſion began, from the Houſe where he died, up Petticoat-Lane and through Widegate-Street, and down Houndſditch to the Grave; where the Muſick ceas'd, while the Burial Service was perform'd; then the Muſick again play'd the ſame Piece twice over; and ſo ended the Solemnity.

Thus, the ingenious Youth is ſoon cut off by Fate;
While harden'd, uſeleſs Wretches, breathe a longer Date.

N. B. The Author of the Daily Journal, in his laſt Thurſday's Paper, has exhibited to the Publick an off-hand Piece of Water-Wit; or a conciſe Panegyrick on the whole Court of Aldermen; each particular Encomium being artfully contracted within the narrow Compaſs of a Diſtich. Some of our Members were inclin'd to tranſcribe this elaborate Performance, and the Queſtion was put; but our old Friend Simeon Snarle, with a Grin, moſt ſtrenuouſly oppos'd it, and with an ill-natur'd Sneer inſiſted that we had Grub-Verſes enough of our Own; upon which that Motion was over-rul'd. We cannot however be prevail'd on to paſs the Whole over in Silence, and think ourſelves obliged to thank our New City-Poet, for the Marvellous Reſpect he has paid to Mr. Bellamy. As the Thought is ſo truely ſublime, and the Numbers ſo ſweet and harmonious, we doubt not but the Repetition of them will be highly agreeable to all our Readers, but more peculiarly to the Whigs, to whom we principally recommend them.

To give each Man his Due, tho' Whig, or Tory,
Nay ev'n the Dev'l, is, Bellamy, thy Glory.

FOREIGN NEWS.

Arrived Mails.——Saturday; one from France, one from Holland.——Monday; one from Holland——Tueſday; one from France.

FROM Conſtantinople, we learn, that the moſt ſurprizing Revolution has happen'd in the Ottoman Empire, that any Age has produc'd: Begun by a ſeeming inconſiderable Perſon, on this Manner.

A private Janniziary (or common Foot Soldier) pretended to be a Prophet, and that he had ſeen a Viſion; whereby he was aſſured, "That as, during the Reign of Sultan Achmet, "the Wars they had enter'd into, both againſt the Emperor "of the Romans, and againſt the King of Perſia, had proved "very unſucceſsful, and inglorious for the Ottoman Empire, "and the Mahometan Religion; which was chiefly owing "to the Sultan's Indolence, and the Vizir's bad Conduct, "who had yielded up to Infidels and other Enemies, whole "Provinces, and the choiceſt Fortreſſes, contrary to the "expreſs Meaning of the Alcoran; ſo ſurely would the "Turkiſh Empire and Religion fall to the Ground, if "Sultan Achmet continued longer upon the Throne, or the "Vizir in the Direction of Affairs."——This Perſon on the 28th of September laſt went into the Market-Place, with an old tatter'd Flag under his Veſt, and cry'd out, "That "all true Muſſulmen ought to follow him." Thereupon a general Confuſion enſued, and all the Shops were immediately ſhut; tho' he had not then above 50 Followers, with whom he continued in the Market-Place all Night, without committing any Diſorder. The 29th he had gather'd together about 600 Perſons, all of the common People, without one Man of Note among them. An Expreſs was ſent to the Grand Seignior at Scutari, to acquaint him with what had happen'd; but he being too dilatory in taking Meaſures with the prime Vizir to extinguiſh this Spark, he at laſt reſolved to return to Conſtantinople, which he did the next Day (Sept. 30.) By this Time the Rebels were 2000 ſtrong; and the Jannizaries join'd them one and all, and then demanded the Heads of the prime Viſir, the Reis-Effendi, and the Capt. Baſhaw. The Sultan, thinking thereby to prevent farther Miſchief, ſent their Bodies in a Cart to the Rebels, they immediately hack'd them in Pieces and caſt them to the Dogs, except the Capt. Baſhaw, whom his Mother redeem'd for a great Sum of Money. They then dragged the old Mufti out of his Houſe, and drown'd him: Then they ſtorm'd the Walls of the Seraglio; but before they could maſter them 700 Men were kill'd. They ſeized he Grand Seignior and depoſed him, and taking his Son Machmut out of Priſon, ſet him on the Throne, and made him Sultan; putting Achmet in his Place of Confinement. The new Sultan has already fill'd the Places of the three Miniſters lately ſacrificed, with three Perſons of great Ability, and very popular; but the Rebels ſtill keep under Arms, and their Number is increas'd to 100,000 Men; nor does any one pretend to know what they may farther deſign: However they obſerve true Diſcipline and do no Violence.

The King of Poland's Letter to his Pruſſian Majeſty, concerning the unhappy Difference betwixt him and his Son, the Prince Royal, was very moving, being drawn up in Terms calculated to revive the King's paternal Affection, and to reſtore the unfortunate young Prince to Favour.

From Cadiz, they write, that it was ſuppoſed the Fair at Porto-Bello would be held in October laſt, and that the Affair of the Indulto on the Effects of the Flotilla, is ſtill in the ſame Uncertainty; no Body knowing when they will be delivered.

Calais, Nov. 14. N. S. During a violent Storm of Wind, a French Ship from Martinico (as is ſuppos'd) bound for Dunkirk, ran aſhore near Ambleteuſe. It is ſaid ſhe belong'd to a Surgeon, who had lived many Years in the Weſt-Indies; and having gotten a conſiderable Fortune, which he had laid out in the Ship and Cargo, deſign'd to ſpend the Remainder of his Days at home, which fell out accordingly, for he periſh'd with his Eſtate.

Next Week will be Reprinted,
(On a Half-Sheet of ſuperfine Paper)

THE Tragi-Comic Tale of the Leak diſcover'd; or, Work for a Cooper; extracted out of our laſt Week's Regiſter (there having been a larger Demand for it than we were prepar'd for, or aware of) embelliſh'd with an humourous Head-piece and Tail-piece proper to the Occaſion, curiouſly engrav'd by an Ho—g—rthian Artiſt, whoſe Genius naturally inclines him to Groteſque Figures. And we are the rather induc'd to oblige our kind Cuſtomers in this pompous Manner, that they may be hung up in Frames with Glaſſes; imagining our Project will be conſtrued as a true Proteſtant Attempt, and a juſt Satyr on the vicious Part of the Romiſh Clergy. This facetious Story with its Decorations, both above and below, will be ſold at William Pritchards, Printſeller, at the Corner of Duke's Court, near the Muſe, at ſo ſmall a Price as Three-pence, without conſidering either its intrinſic Merit, or the Expence that attends it, purely to oblige the Populace, who ſeldom come to Market with Shillings, or even Sixpences in their tatter'd Galligaskins. And in order to make a PAIR (for all Things in PAIRS we are conſcious run the beſt) we propoſe ſhortly, in Caſe the GRUBS ſhould behave in a refractory Manner, and ride ruſty to publiſh on the ſame Paper, and in the ſame Character, An Abſtract of the Hiſtory of the Grubean Society; wherein their Antiquity will be clearly demonſtrated, and their Genealogy trac'd from the Caterpillars and Locuſts that firſt darken'd the Land of Egypt. Theſe Authentic, tho' ſhort Memoirs will likewiſe be embelliſh'd with the Effigies of A.P—e at full length, by Way of Head-piece; and each Side adorn'd with the grim Phizzes of Mr. Secretary Bavius, Mævius, Zoilus, Momus, all rang'd in their proper Order. At the Bottom, by Way of Tail-piece, their Parnaſſian, Mr. Poppy, is intended to be drawn at full length as well as their Preſident, in his Pontificalibus. And to render this Work ſtill more compleat, a flying Pegaſus ſhall adorn each Corner.——The whole engrav'd by the ſame Hand.—N. B. The Game begins,
